

AIACC Project Development Workshop

Climate Change Vulnerability and Adaptation

Course Description and Detailed Course Programme

Introduction:

The workshop will explore common areas of concern in AIACC projects. The workshop will cover concepts and case studies, and then explore practical ways in which various aspects of impacts modelling, vulnerability assessment and evaluation of adaptation could be applied in individual projects. People coming to the course will be expected to work on their own project material and time will be allocated to address individual project concerns. The course is designed to have flexibility and be responsive to people's needs as they arise.

The course objectives are:

1. To consider the design of projects, including the link to policy, identification of sensitive sectors and vulnerable groups, capacity building and role of stakeholders;
2. To evaluate diverse methodologies to meet the demand for information on climate change;
3. To initiate training in methods that form the components of vulnerability and adaptation projects;
4. To promote further learning, among project participants and partners in specialist centers.

The course is organized around several types of activities:

- Plenary presentations are overviews of major themes of the workshop
- Breakout groups and practical sessions follow up major themes
- Project development sessions for participants to work on their own projects
- Participant presentations to give short synopses of their projects
- Special events, including a poster reception and workshop dinner
- A field trip to Venice to see sea level rise threats first-hand
- Flexi-time for additional presentations, informal working groups, and projects consultations
- Wrap up, feed back and evaluation sessions at the end of each day

Organization:

The first day will be devoted to exploring approaches to climate change impacts, using a mixture of presentations and evaluation of case studies. The remainder of the first week follows the vulnerability and adaptation themes with more detailed presentations and 'hands on' sessions. The second week is oriented toward impacts assessment and synthesis.

The workshop is not organized according to a detailed progression, i.e. overview on Monday, Step 1 on Tuesday, and finish with Step 7 on Day 12. This is partly practical--the constraints of who is available when (there are at least three other climate meetings going on in Europe at the same time)—and partly due to the diversity of approaches to climate change impacts, vulnerability and adaptation. And, the design is partly due to our view that the participants have skills and experience that we all need to learn from! So, you might think of the course as an a la carte buffet rather than a set menu that everyone follows.

The course book will include a 'personal goals sheet'. This will help you think about the coming two weeks and what you wish to get out of the workshop. Don't hesitate to ask about material, topics and tutorials that you would like to see covered (or would like to contribute yourself)!

AIACC Project Development Workshop

Climate Change Vulnerability and Adaptation

Roles:

The participants will have opportunities throughout the workshop, to:

- Session chair: keeping time, stimulating the sessions
- Rapporteur: to provide a short synopsis of the day—what are the major headlines?
- Discussant: to comment on a plenary presentation and form a panel for questions
- Peer reviewer: to critique the case studies
- Presenter and facilitator, in addition to the scheduled activities

Two places in the programme are reserved for participant presentations. In the first session, on Friday, Day 5, there is time for about a dozen participants to make short (10 minute) overviews of their research AIACC projects, or related research. These will be voluntary, with a sign up sheet early in the workshop. The intention is to give us a chance to learn from your own work and expertise, as well as to report on the AIACC 'work in progress'.

The afternoon of the second Thursday is reserved for project presentations. These are more specific presentations by each project team. They should relate the workshop themes to the design of their projects and review progress to-date.

On the first day and again on the first Thursday, the workshop includes sessions where facilitators will present case studies of climate change projects. The intention of the break-out groups is to review this experience. We suggest the following checklist as a guide to the review of the case studies:

Design:	How was the project designed? By whom? Who were the clients? Who were the partners? Was there an explicit analytical framework/flow chart?
Methods:	What were the methods chosen for: * climate and climate scenarios * present vulnerability * impacts models and assessments * adaptation measures and strategies, and their evaluation
Outcomes:	What were the major conclusions? How were the outcomes communicated? To whom? Were the outcomes influential in policy? Research capacity building?
Lessons learned:	Where there recommendations for further research and project design?

NB: In the schedule, the pick-up routine each morning is the same as on the first day.

DAY 1: Monday, June 3, 2002

TIME	#	ACTIVITY	LOCATION	SPEAKER
8:00		Buses Pick Up Participants at Hotels	Hotels
8:30		Participants Arrive at Adriatico Guest House (AGH)
8:30-9:30		Registration and Training Set-up

SESSION 1 WELCOME AND PROJECT DESIGN
Session Objectives: 1) To introduce the workshop plan to participants, and 2) To provide and overview of project design. Chair: Neil Leary, Rapporteur: Gina Ziervogel.
9:00	1a	Plenary Session	Giambagi
		Welcome and Orientation		Mohammed Hassan and AIACC
		Course Objectives		Tom Downing
10:30		Coffee Break (Sign Up for Afternoon Breakout Sessions) Participant Registration (continued)
11:00	1b	Plenary Session	Giambagi
		How should we frame adaptation science for policy making?		Ian Burton
		Project design: linking research and policy		Saleemul Huq
12:30-14:30		Lunch Break	Canteen
		Participants shall assemble posters during lunch break
		Computer Lab Orientation	Lundqvist	Jeremy Mennis & ICTP

SESSION 2 CASE EXAMPLES OF BEST PRACTICES
Session Objectives: To acquaint the participants with a range of case examples, and to peer review the case examples. Each group should assign a rapporteur to make a brief presentation to the wrap-up session on what the group learned (2 minutes maximum).
14:30	2a	Parallel Break-Out Sessions: Case Examples
		Adaptation Planning	Giambagi	Ian Burton & Gary Yohe
		Sea Level Rise in West Africa	Lundqvist	Isabelle Niang-Diop
		Integrated Assessment in the Philippines	Ecklund Lab	Rodel Lasco
16:00		Coffee Break
16:30	2b	Parallel Break-Out Sessions: Case Examples
		Vulnerability in Bangladesh	Giambagi	Saleemul Huq
		Integrated Planning in the Seychelles	Lundqvist	Rolph Payet
		Vulnerability Assessment in Honduras	Ecklund Lab	Tom Downing & Gina Ziervogel
18:00		End of Session

REVIEW AND WRAP UP OF DAY 1
18:00		Wrap up: Report from Each Case Study	Giambagi	Neil Leary
		Wrap up: Rapporteur's synopsis		Gina Ziervogel
		Evaluation: From confusion to course plan		Tom Downing
		Participants Sign Up for Day 2 Break-Out Sessions
19:00		Reception, Buffet and Posters	AGH Lobby
		Participants and Facilitators to Display Posters in AGH Lobby
21:00		Buses Leave for Hotels
21:30		Training Group Briefing	Trieste

Please note that the TWAS financial officer will be in the Director's Office between 18.30 and 20.30 to organize pocket money distribution and air ticket reimbursement. If participants are unable to meet with her his day, there will be many opportunities to do so in the following days.

DAY 2: Tuesday, June 4, 2002

	Vulnerability Mapping I: Indicators for drought early warning	Lundqvist	Linda Stephen, Jeremy Mennis
	Uncertainty and Robustness	Ecklund Lab	Gary Yohe
	Adaptation Planning Framework (repeat)	7th Floor Conf.	Ian Burton
18:00	End of Session

REVIEW AND WRAP UP OF DAY 2

18:00	Wrap up and Rapporteur's synopsis	Giambagi	Ian Burton
	Evaluation: Participant Satisfaction Index		Tom Downing
	Participants Sign Up for Day 3 Break-Out Sessions
18:30	Buses Leave for Hotels
19:30	Training Group Briefing	Trieste

DAY 3: Wednesday, June 5, 2002

TIME	#	ACTIVITY	LOCATION	SPEAKER
8:00		Buses Pick Up Participants at Hotels	Hotels

SESSION 5 RISK, VULNERABILITY AND ADAPTATION
Session Objective: To provide an overview of climate risk management and develop skills in adaptation assessment. Chair: Saleemul Huq, Rapporteur: Claudia Natenzon.
9:00	5a	Plenary Session: Climate Sensitivity and Coping	Giambagi	Roger Jones
		Plenary Session: Adapting to Climate Outlooks	Giambagi	Gina Ziervogel
10:30		Coffee Break
11:00	5b	Parallel Break-Out Sessions
		Operationalizing Climate Coping Ranges	Giambagi	Roger Jones
		Adaptation: Further Methods	Lundqvist	Gary Yohe
		Vulnerability Mapping II: Mapping Drought Vulnerability	Ecklund Lab	Linda Stephen, Jeremy Mennis and Gina Ziervogel
		Flexi-time	7 th Floor Conf.
12:30-14:30		Lunch Break	Canteen
13:30		Optional Informal Lunchtime Talk	TBA
13:30		Optional Informal Lunchtime Talk	TBA
		Computer Lab; TWAS financial officer available	Directors Office

SESSION 6 RISK, ADAPTATION & REGIONAL DISCUSSIONS
Session Objective: To provide further details on vulnerability assessment and adaptation and allow participants
14:30	6a	Parallel Breakout Sessions: Vulnerability and Adaptation
		Drought Coping: Semi-structured Interviews	Giambagi	Patrick Mushove
		Institutions, stakeholders and macro driving forces	Lundqvist	Tom Downing & Haile Eakin
		Adaptation: Further Methods	Ecklund Lab	Gary Yohe
		Participatory methods for vulnerability assessment	7th Floor Conf.	Gina Ziervogel
16:00		Coffee Break
16:30	6b	Parallel Regional Discussions
		Africa	Giambagi
		Asia/Pacific	Lundqvist
		Latin America	Ecklund
18:00		End of Session

REVIEW AND WRAP UP OF DAY 3
18:00		Wrap up & rapporteur's synopsis	Giambagi	Saleemul Huq
		Evaluation		Tom Downing
		Participants Sign Up for Day 4 Break-Out Sessions
18:30		Buses Leave for Hotels
19:30		Training Group Briefing	Trieste

Note: Regional discussions are to relate workshop material to the participant's regions and projects. What are the major vulnerabilities? What indicators of vulnerability, impacts and adaptation are suitable to their projects and regions? What is the range of adaptation measures and strategies? And how will vulnerability and adaptation be evaluated? This session is for participants to develop and refine their project designs and prepare for presentations and discussions on Day 5.

DAY 4: Thursday, June 6, 2002

TIME	#	ACTIVITY	LOCATION	SPEAKER
8:00		Buses Pick Up Participants at Hotels	Hotels

SESSION	7	STAKEHOLDERS
		Session Objectives: To review rationale and opportunities for stakeholder participation, and to develop skills in stakeholder participation and evaluation. Chair and Rapporteur to be determined.
9:00	7a	Plenary Session: Stakeholder Participation	Giambagi	Tim Downs
10:30		Coffee Break
11:00	7b	Parallel Break-Out Sessions: Stakeholder Case Studies

SESSION	10	PROJECT DEVELOPMENT
		Session Objectives: To provide participants opportunity to present aspects of their own research and ongoing projects, organized around the three themes of the first week and to wrap up the week with a synthesis of what has been learned.
14:30	10a	Parallel Break-Out Sessions
		Sessions are: 1. Vulnerability and risk assessment 2. Adaptation options and evaluation 3. Stakeholder analysis and participation Presentations are 10 minutes each with discussion (either after each presentation or at the end)	Rooms to be Announced	Facilitators and rapporteurs to be nominated
16:00		Coffee Break
16:30	10b	Synthesis and wrap up	Giambagi
		Reports from the presentation sessions (10 minutes each) followed by a general/panel discussion		To be nominated
15:30		End of Session

REVIEW AND WRAP UP OF DAY 5
15:30		Evaluation: Participant Satisfaction Index (update)	Giambagi	Tom Downing
		Participants Sign Up for Day 8 (Monday) Break-Out
18:00		Buses Leave for Hotels
19:30		Training Group Briefing	Trieste

Note: The afternoon is devoted to presentations from participants. Participants will be asked to volunteer (early in the week). This is a chance to present the strategy for the research projects and relate their development to the course themes covered in the first week.

DAYS 6 and 7: June 8 and 9, 2002 (Weekend)
